The President Looks Bright and Feels Cheerful.

Washington, July 15. 7 a. m.—Dr. Bliss reports this morning that the President enjoyed a good night's rest and that he looks bright and feels cheerful. His temperature at this hour is about normal and his pulse about 98. HERE IT IS STRAIGHT OUT.

Washington, July 15.—Upon being asked this morning if the President was growing stronger Dr. Bliss impatiently asked: "How do you expect a man to grow stronger on twelve ounces of liquid food daily, a pretty high ten days fever and the drain of a dangerous wound. No he is not growing stronger. When the fever leaves him, when the wound is healed and he is eating twelve ounces of beef steak three times a day he will get strong again, but he is getting every day nearer to the time when he will be growing stronger and that is quite enough for a doctor to be thankful for, is it not?"

"Do you consider the President better than yesterday morning?"
"Yes, undoubtedly. The pulse and temperature are lower. We were somewhat disturbed at the increase of temperature which took place Saturday and continued measurably during Sunday, but this morning it is down again and the pulse is back to 98. By the end of this week I have the strongest faith that the President will be out of danger and will be growing stronger fast enough to satisfy our friends here."

OFFICIAL BULLETIN.
Executive Mansion, 8:30 a. m.—The President has rested well during the night and is doing admirably this morning and takes his food with a relish. Pulse 90, temperature 90.8, respiration 18. (Signed)
D. W. BLISS,
J. K. BARNES,
J. J. WOODWARD,
ROBT. REYBURN.

Executive Mansion, July 15.—The following telegram was sent by the attending surgeons this afternoon:
Executive Mansion, 1 p. m.—To Drs. Agnew and Frank Hamilton: The President continues to do well. The afternoon fever is daily less marked. A smaller quantity of milk has been administered and solid food substituted and relished. He has had less rest and at intervals of several hours has taken wine, in all about two ounces and a half. Last night his hypodermic injection consisted of three-sixteenths of a grain of morphia only. This morning we have altered the dose of sulphate of quinia to three grains, to be taken three times a day. Yesterday at 7 p. m. the pulse was 98, temperature 99.5, respiration 18. At 1 p. m. the pulse was 94, temperature 98.6, respiration 18. Signed,
D. W. BLISS,
J. K. BARNES,
J. J. WOODWARD,
ROBT. REYBURN.

THE DOCTORS TALK GOOD.

Washington, July 15.—Dr. Bliss said this morning: The President is improving right along. It was not that some unforeseen and unexpected accident might arise I might say officially, positively, that the President is out of danger.

Dr. Barnes said the President is practically out of danger. He gets stronger and better every day. Everything is progressing very nicely.
SOUTHERN SYMPATHY.
Senator Butler of South Carolina called at the White House to-day and saw the President's private secretary. He wished that gentleman to convey to Mrs. Garfield his sympathy for her anxiety and much joy over the hopeful prospects of the President. He said that not only the people of his own State, but the whole South detested the crime and hailed with joy the bright hopes that the reports from the sick room warranted.

WON'T TRY THE BELL ELECTRICIAN.
The physicians have determined not to try on the President the Bell electrician instrument for locating the ball. They say that the ball is all right and doing very nicely and that there is no reason or necessity of disturbing the President to try the experiment of locating it. The instruments may be used when the President gets well but not before.

Capt. Hooper's Letter.

Portland, Or., July 15.—The Argus of yesterday says Captain C. L. Hooper, commanding the cutter Corwin, writes from Plover Bay, Siberia, June 12th, saying: "We reached St. Lawrence Island May 28th, and entered the Arctic regions on June 2d. We lost a rudder in the ice in latitude 63 degrees, 10 seconds north, and had to steer several days by jury rudder. The same day on which the accident occurred we landed Lieutenants Herring and Reynolds, one seaman and two natives, equipped with twenty-five dogs, and four sledges, and with two months' rations, arms, ammunition and plenty of fur clothing, tents and a skin boat, with instructions to explore the coast of Asia as far north of Jachint as possible for tidings of the Jeanette. A report has been received that seal hunters have seen the wreck of two whalers, Vigilant and Mount Wolsten, last November at North Cape and found the bodies of the crew. The Wolsten was found eighty miles further north, and both vessels were stove in and full of water."
Capt. Hooper said he would endeavor to get every information and get back to St. Michaels by July 12.

The Commander of the Lost Whaler.

Boston, July 15.—The Herald's Philadelphia special says the commander of the long lost whaler Mount Wolsten, referred to in a San Francisco dispatch to-day was Ebenezer Faye, of Massachusetts, whose nephew, F. Eaton, is a resident of this city. In conversation this evening Eaton gave an interesting story of the intrepid sailor whose fate is still enshrouded in mystery. Faye is a native of Pocasset, Mass., and is about 63 years of age. He has been a sailor since he was 9 years of age, and has accumulated a fortune estimated at 300,000. Although no trace of Faye has been found, his family don't give him up for lost, as he has several times had such remarkable escapes from death that he is looked upon as a very lucky man. He has made a number of Arctic voyages, and has been shipwrecked three times, but always came out right. He sailed to the Arctic Ocean, where the ship was driven ashore, and he was forced to return to San Francisco on the Helen Mar, having saved only the whalebone he had caught. As soon as the next season opened he went up to where the Cleone had been driven ashore, and found that all his oil had been saved by the Esquimaux for him. He was on very friendly terms with them, and they had great regard for "Cappy Nye," as they called him, owing to the many acts of kindness he had shown them, and his efforts to prevent the unnecessary killing of whales, which forms their principal food. They were very grateful for this and would do almost anything for him and his lands his family to believe that he has been sheltered by them either on Herald Island or somewhere in that vicinity.

Chinese Education to be Stopped.

New York, July 15.—Says the Times Herald special: There is a probability that the promising educational scheme which the Chinese Government has been trying in this country for the past ten years, will speedily come to an end. There is reason to believe that the Chinese Ambassador to this country has been superseded by a new minister, who is instructed to put a stop to the educational project, and have those connected with it, students, instructors and attendants sent back to China. The headquarters of the commission has always been in this city, where it owns a fine building for a residence. There are at least one hundred young men in the country, about fifty being in various colleges, while the others are in preparatory schools. They are picked boys of good families, and have exhibited great aptitude for study, and have made themselves favorites everywhere. The abandonment of the enterprise, if it is decided upon, will occasion much regret. It was originated by Yung Wang himself, a graduate of Yale, and one of the most progressive Chinese statesmen of the age. He has resided in this country during the past ten years, and with the sanction of his government, adopted the American dress, married an American wife, an intelligent lady of Avon, in this State. For several years he has been associated with Chin Lan Pin, in charge of the Chinese embassy to this country. It is reported that both these gentlemen are to return to China, and that the first boys to be returned will be those of the recently formed school of telegraph.

Plan of Insanity Untenable.

New York, July 15.—The Tribune says: A man who deliberately plans an assassination for five days before he makes the dastardly assault, who goes about examining arms and when he has purchased a pistol weeks in advance of his crime and practiced first at a board so as to improve his marksmanship, who dogs his victim's steps, following him one day into his house, and selecting a place where he can fire at him the next Sunday, who watches for his man in a depot or on the street corners and wherever he is likely to meet him, until at last he feels him to the earth, is enough in all conscience to complete the account of which District Attorney Cook furnishes of the assassin's movements from March 6th to July 2d, and renders the story of insanity utterly untenable. To believe it almost implies insanity in him who believes.

Albany Advice.

Albany, July 15.—Joint ballot, short term—Potter 53, Lapham 40; Conkling 32, Evans 1, Woodward 1, necessary to choice 70.
Joint ballot, long term—Miller 74, Kernan 33, Wheeler 7, Fish 11, Daniels 3, Evans 1, Adams 2, Bliss 1, Chapman 2, Starrin 2, Tenney 1, necessary to choice 70.

Conkling Gives it Up.
Washington, July 15.—Conkling expresses the opinion that the Albany Legislature will elect Miller and Lapham. He seems totally indifferent. He expects to return to New York.

Oh! the Infatuated Lament!

New York, July 15.—The Sun's Milwaukee special says: A recent Washington dispatch to the effect that Guiteau based his hopes of marrying a rich widow upon the securing of a Government appointment has caused much talk in this city. While conducting a revival, meeting here last June Mrs. Sarah VanCott exhibited several letters written to her by Guiteau, prefacing the act with the statement in substance that Guiteau was formerly an infidel who had been converted through her efforts and that since his conversion he was the smartest and most influential young man in Chicago. The letters were neatly tied together with perfumed blue ribbons and were a mixture of ambiguous dissertations on things spiritual and rhapsodical reference to his all-absorbing affection and profound admiration for and in the expressible evangelist who had saved him. Said one of the ladies who was privileged to read the letters: "Mrs. VanCott expressed great pride in showing the letters and seemed highly to esteem the author." The lady says she knows that Mrs. VanCott is the wealthy widow the crack-brained fellow thought he could marry.

French National Fete.

New York, July 15.—A Herald's Paris special says: Paris has to-day been entirely absorbed by the celebration of the National fete, the second since its decree by the French Legislature. The review at Long Champs though less important than on some former occasions was a great success. About 7,000 troops were under arms and without exception the marching and bearing of the men were most creditable. At 2 o'clock President Grevy drew up to his pavillion escorted by a detachment of cavalry closely followed by Gen. Farre, who was attended by a brilliant corps of foreign military attaches. The tribunals were not as comfortably thronged as usual, thanks to the prudence of General Patti, whose disagreeable duty was to distribute tickets for the much coveted reserved seats on the grounds. The heat was terrible and unfortunately caused several accidents. I saw no less than five soldiers carried off the ground insensible, victims of sunstroke, in less than half an hour. But some idea of the weather may be best obtained when I say that in the middle of March the grass on the field took fire and had to be extinguished by Home Piers. Apart from these accidents everything passed off satisfactorily. Among the celebrities present I noticed M. Gambetta and M. Jules Ferry.

Army of the Cumberland Congratulated.

Chicago, July 15.—At a meeting of the resident members of the Army of the Cumberland, which was held last night at General Sheridan's residence, resolutions were unanimously adopted to congratulate Garfield and his devoted wife and his country upon the present happy prospect of his speedy recovery, and extending to him the heartfelt sympathy and the tender, cordial regard of his old comrades in the Army of the Cumberland, with the hope that a few weeks at most will restore him to health and vigor and long years of useful service to the country, which in the past he has served so well. General Sheridan was requested to transmit these resolutions to the President and his family.

$10,000 Stolen.

New York, July 15.—Word was received at the police headquarters this evening from the Grand Central Depot that three men, apparently peddlers, had stolen $10,000 in bills at the depot and escaped. The men were in a licensed vendor's wagon, the number of which is known to the police. Particulars were not given, but it is surmised that the money was stolen out of an express safe or office. A general alarm was sent out and detectives put to work.

Wabash.

Philadelphia, July 15.—The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has been notified by the officers of the Wabash and New Jersey Central railroads of their approval and signature of the contract for the use of the Philadelphia and Erie and Alleghany Valley roads as a portion of the Wabash system. Work on the connection between Red Bank and Alleghany Valley and Youngstown has been commenced.

Striking Brewers.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 15.—The journeymen brewers, six hundred in number, presented a demand to their employers to-day to reduce their hours of labor from 15 hours to 13 1/2 hours daily. Three breweries acceded to the demand. The others were holding out at noon. Strikers are marching in procession with a band of music, visiting different breweries.

Cut in Passenger Rates.

Philadelphia, July 15.—The difficulty started by cutting westbound passenger rates has been progressing since Friday, when the Boston & Albany inaugurated it, and the New York Central, Erie, and B. & O. have joined the cut. The cut amounts to $5 to Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis. The Pennsylvania road has not yet reduced the schedule of prices, but will if the others do not.

Bad Bandit.

New York, July 15.—An Italian was arrested in New Orleans and brought here as Exposito, the notorious bandit. He gives a long account of his life, showing he has always been a peaceful peasant venter. The keeper of Ludlow street jail says Exposito has not brains enough to be a bandit, and is the most inoffensive man around the place.

Thanksgiving.

Louisville, July 15.—To-day was generally observed as one of thanksgiving for the President's escape from assassination and prayer for his recovery.
Little Rock, July 15.—The day has been observed in fasting and prayer for the President's recovery.

Don't Know Whether to Hang Him or Not.

St. Louis, Mo., July 15.—Notwithstanding the fact that Chief Justice Sherwood yesterday granted a stay of execution in the case of Charles F. Kring, sentenced to be hanged to-day, the Circuit Attorney, Harris, issued instructions to Sheriff Mason this morning to proceed with the execution. The Sheriff consulted counsel, and notified Mr. Harris that he declined to recognize his authority in the matter. Opinion is somewhat divided as to whether Judge Sherwood had authority under the circumstances to grant a stay or to take any action at all in the case. Public feeling is quite strong here against Kring, and perhaps a majority of the people wish to have him suffer the penalty of law for the atrocious crime he committed.

Cablegrams.

FETE.

London, July 15.—A Paris dispatch says the national fete celebration was a grand success.

IN THE COMMONS.

In the Commons last night in the committees besides the elimination of Canada from emigration clauses of the bill, all mention of particular localities was omitted, so the clause as amended simply gives the commission to be appointed under the bill, power to arrange for emigration with public bodies or companies, the Solicitor-General holding that the colonial foreign governments will be covered by the words "public bodies." The amendment limiting the total sum to be expended on emigration to $200,000, not more than one-third to be expended in a single year, was agreed to.

NEW CABLEGRAM RATES.

London, July 15.—The Anglo-American Telegraph Company, the Direct U. S. Cable Company and Compagnie Francaise Du Telegraphie De Paris et New York, have given notice that on and after August first, proximo, the rate for transmission of telegrams between New York and the United Kingdom and France will be reduced to 25 cents per word.

WARNING TO BRADLAUGH.

London, July 15.—The Pall Mall Gazette, in a leading article, warns Bradlaugh that his notice to the speaker of the House of Commons, declaring that he will present himself at the table demanding being all to take the parliamentary oath, and that he will resist physical force if offered, is a menace of lawlessness, and that he and his followers should understand that those who, like the Pall Mall Gazette, have supported and intended to support his lawful claims through thick and thin, can see nothing but mischief and failure in it.

Arrest of a Human Friend.

St. Louis, July 15.—James Atkinson was arrested among the Mississippi islands in the extreme southwest of this State, charged with murdering his wife and child, July 4th, and throwing the bodies in the river, where they were found. Family troubles were the cause. Other relatives were also arrested as accessories.

Hebrew Union.

Chicago, July 15.—The Hebrew Union, in session here three days, adjourned sine die after adopting reports encouraging the immigration of Jews and their engagement in agriculture, and transacting other business, mostly of a routine nature.

Fire.

Providence, July 15.—The building used as a finishing room adjoining the West Mill, at Slaterville burned to-day. Loss estimated at $100,000. Insured. Seven hundred overcoats are thrown out of employment.

Short Crop in Iowa.

Chicago, July 15.—The Secretary of the Iowa State Board of Agriculture states that there will be a shortage of 17,000,000 bushels of corn, wheat and oats in the Iowa crop this year.

Telegraphic Paragraphs.

Charles Coffin Harris, Chief Justice of Hawaii, is dead.

The crops on the Pacific slope are 30 or 40 per cent. larger than last year.

The cotton crop in the United States will be larger this year than expected.
